ALMA MATER

ALMA MATER

Long will live our Alma Mater
Dear old L.H.S.

We have brought our dear
Old high school,
This the torch of light.

Chorus:

Burning brightly with our love
We hail thee strong and true,
Praise to thee, dear Lillington
We are proud of you.

To the heights she calls us daily
Alma Mater, dear—
Heights of Knowledge, hope,
And courage
Free from doubt or fear

Class History

The class of 1949, with a present enrollment of 11 boys and 11 girls set out on the road of "High School," in September, 1945. During these four years, traveling has been a difficult matter, but as we struggled through the toils of each day we advanced toward our goal. Now that we "have fought a good fight," and have "won the race," we stand, proudly in the "happy hunting ground"--having reached our goal--graduation.

We began our journey as three separate tribes, each with a chief of its own. Various obstacles tended to prevent our progress through the dense forest of learning. In our encampments we were attacked by the Cherokees of algebra and the Choctaws of Science; we were compelled to ford the river of English and the desert of Civics. After nine months under the leadership of Chiefs Walker, Kernodle, and Blackmon, we completed the first part of our journey. Having made enough progress to be called Sophomores, we plunged once again into the depths of the path of education. Out of the 48 who had set out with us we now had 47. Due to the many battles we had conquered, we felt proud of having lost only one. Chief O'Quinn was our councillor for the second lap of the journey.

Our next stop during our journey, was in the Junior Class. We faced many hardships that year, but we ended as victors. We celebrated our good fortune of having conquered the Chippeesaws of English, French, History and Geometry, by a great feast. We entertained our neighboring tribe, the Seniors at a banquet and a dance. In order to finance our powwow, we sponsored a stunt night, sold subscriptions to magazines, and sold refreshments at Field Day. Braves from a neighboring camp came into our midst and took away Doris Sutoon. Edward Mathews decided to abandon the tribe and set up a tepee of his own. So that by the end of the year only 31 remained of the original group.

In the fall of 1948 our tribe numbered only 24. Some had been lost in the depths of the forest of French and Geometry. Mary McNeill, Iona Campbell, and Eugene Ballard had left us to join another tribe. Clifton Smith and Dorothy Blalock found the traveling too hard, and left to pursue other courses.

During the year of '48-'49 our class entered wholeheartedly into the athletics and other activities. We sponsored dances, gave a play, and took part in all the undertakings of the school.

Now having struggled to the last step of the way - - we sit together around our last campfire before each one going his separate way. As we part to become chief of our own tribe, or to enter tribes who are pursuing higher learning, the hardships we have suffered, and the battles we have conquered while traveling through the dense forest of learning will never cease to be a part of our minds and hearts.
